Others/ Miscellaneous:

My passion is coding and learning new programming languages. I enjoy the mental concentration and the feeling of success after completing a project. I started coding during B.Sc degree, and I've created several computer DOS games by myself. After I finished programming my first computer game, I realized I wanted to pursue a career in technology. During this Lockdown period I create two website one is e-commerce and the another one is online examination system. I also design one mobile application (APP) over e-commerce. I want to learn more and contributions that advance the field. I also provide the link which is mentioned below.
